

For the Future: A Campaign for the Johnstown Flood Museum

In 1889, the people of Johnstown suffered one of the worst disasters in American history. One in ten people died; 1,600 homes were ruined.

Johnstown residents quickly overcame the tragedy. Residents had the will to live, to come back, to rebuild, to hold together. They provide a lasting symbol of Johnstown's resilience and strength.

Help us to preserve this story for future generations. Please support the revitalization of the Johnstown Flood Museum.
